

SIA “LENNDY” COOKIE POLICY

Date of Last Update: 24 May 2018

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored on your device (e.g., a computer, mobile phone, tablet) browser when you browse websites. Other technologies, including data, which we store in your browser or a device, identifiers related to your device and other software, are used for similar purposes. Cookies are widely used to have websites operating or operating better and more effectively. All technologies mentioned in this Policy shall be called “cookies”.

2. Why do you use cookies?

We use cookies because we want:

- to ensure website operating in a way it should;
- to ensure that you would not have to log in more than once when visiting our website several times;
- to save your settings during a visit and between them;
- to improve website speed/security;
- to provide you with a possibility to share your pages in social media platforms, e.g. Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn and Google;
- to ensure that after login, you will be able to customize the website to meet your needs in order to find faster what you are searching for;
- to improve the website on a permanent basis, so that it would be more appealing to you;
- to create more effective marketing.

3. What types of cookies do you use?

(a) strictly binding cookies

These cookies on the website are necessary for the user to browse and use the features of the website, e.g. to memorize the information entered in the forms when the user moves from one page to another during a browsing session. Without strictly binding cookies, it would be not possible to provide certain website services, and the website would not operate as smoothly as it should. These cookies do not collect any information for marketing purposes and do not memorise where you have been online.

(b) analytical cookies

Analytical cookies collect information on the use of website and assist in improving the operation of the website. For example, analytical cookies can show what pages are visited most frequently, help to record disorders on the website and show whether promotion items are effective. Analytical cookies do not collect personal information from the users, and all information collected by these cookies is aggregated and anonymous.

(c) functional cookies

Functional cookies allow the website to memorize your options and provide functions improved and customized to meet your needs better. Functional cookies also remember the changes you made, e.g. the individualization of a particular webpage, as well as in other cases, for example, when you watch a video or leave a comment on our webpage. Functional cookies do not track your actions on other websites.

(d) target or promotional cookies

Target or promotional cookies are used in order to make advertising more relevant to you. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advert. This type cookies can be used to measure the effectiveness of a campaign. These cookies can be used to memorize what you watched while visiting the website.

4. What cookies do you use?

SIA “Lenndy” company uses all cookies specified in Item No. 3.

5. How can I manage the cookies?

Accepting the strictly binding cookies and analytical cookies is a prerequisite of using our website. If you opt out of these types of cookies, we cannot predict how our website will work when you visit it.

Having changed the browser settings, you can control the use of functional cookies and target or promotional cookies.

Please pay attention that if you delete or disable the cookies in the future, you may not reach particular parts or functions of our website. If you change the settings of cookies, this will affect other websites you like to visit.
